Computation structures

Problem-solving lesson 8

1. Write a solution to the philosophers' problem (with only 3 philosophers) that exclusively uses blocking message queues as communication method between processes. The function calls related to the message queue handling can be treated schematically.